Steps to Successful Monitoring:

- Provide Prep Guide
- Send Adequate Communications
- Focus on Reporting Sections
- Perform Desk Audit Prior to Visit
- Conduct Site-Visit Interview & Documentation Request

Monitoring Prep Guide – For Review & Reflection

1. Technical Assistance
   a. Workshops/Events to build capacity through skill-building, networking, & collaborating
   b. Prepare subrecipient to reflect on past events & think forward
2. Performance Measurement
   a. Based on HUD's 2003 requirement to develop "Performance Measurement System"
   b. Prepare subrecipient to reflect on stated performance measurement system (provided in RFP/contract) & think forward

Monitoring Prep Guide – _Documentation_

- Note: Depth of documentation review depends on the size and capacity of the organization; therefore, not all documentation may be required.

- _"In using Federal funds the cardinal rule is: documentation... If your activities, personnel, expenditures, and results are not documented properly, from the Federal Government's perspective, you have not done your job, regardless of your accomplishments."_

  - Playing by the Rules Handbook

Monitoring Prep Guide – Documentation

   d. Procurement and Inventory Reports
   e. Leveraging Resources

Interview Questions: Technical Assistance & Performance Measurement

1. Which workshops/events were attended and what were your take-a-ways or thoughts towards improvement based on the attended workshops?
2. What are some of the needs of your organization that training and technical assistance may assist? What are some of the needs of your clients where staff of your organization needs some training to better provide for those needs? Do you have any other requests of the PCD for workshops and/or events for the future?
3. Reflecting on current performance measurement system, are there other indicators that could more clearly define success for your program?

Summary:

Use the monitoring as a tool for continuous improvement and relationship management by not playing "gotcha"; but rather, open the lines of communication by being clear about documentation needs, performance measurement, and technical assistance opportunities.
